

Most Of Michigan's Problems Can Be Solved With . . . Money

MONEY CAN BUY MICHIGAN'S most compelling needs. The problem is where to get the money.

Leaders in every field of government repeat before legislative committees that more cash will make the difference between inadequate and satisfactory services.

In an election year, political parties are blaming each other. Democrats insist on more spending for needed services. Republicans refuse to spend money the state doesn't have.

The best explanation from an administrator caught in the middle came from Charles F. Wagg, state mental health director, who said that, despite emergencies, lawmakers did not give him an extra dime.

Legislators, who have been studying the state's revenue structure for two years, plan major proposals for new and revised taxes for the 1959 session.

They believe a personal income tax could be passed, one which would be the largest source of revenue.

With current revenue falling $10,000,000 behind estimates for the year, with the economic situation adding to welfare rolls, with the growing population demanding services, new taxes are almost a certainty.

"We can't go on spending money we don't have forever," said one legislator.

Symptoms of the money crises are visible on every side.

Part of the story came from Controller James W. Miller, who said that 274 building projects—those costing $20,000 or more—are still on the planning boards.

Those will cost about $226,000,000. Money has been provided for only 195 of the projects and payments must be kept up to finance them, estimated to cost $101,000,000.

Miller said the projects have been delayed so long that they will have to be re-planned just to recognize technological advances in building construction techniques.

Probate judges are demanding quick action to house and care for 1,500 mentally ill children on waiting lists for state mental hospitals.

Public health officials are viewing overcrowded prisons with alarm. A major building project at Ionia is half-completed.

Scores of schools in Michigan are borrowing against anticipated school aid to keep operating this year. The debt will be taken out of payments to be made early next year and later.

What will happen at that point is anybody's guess.

The legislature guaranteed $190 per pupil as the school aid formula last winter. They feared—and their fears came true—that there would not be enough money to pay the shot.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, blames the legislature for "callous irresponsibility" for not giving the schools more.

Other scores of schools are borrowing huge sums to build new classrooms. Future generations will still be paying the bills on bond issues when their grandchildren are in school.

Legislators, trying to make ends meet, have declared moratoriums on new building for the past two years.

But this is 1958, another election year.

Candidates will take to the trail before Nov. 4 blaming each other for the problem.

When it is all over and the legislature convenes in January and politicians are in office for their two-year terms, the short, terse phrase will come back to haunt them:

"There just isn't an extra dime."

The Noble Experiment?

For several years now, the people of northern Michigan have been listening to the coming wonders of the new Interstate Highway system. Worriers about the new access highway by-passing towns have been calmed and comforted by officials.

The new superhighway was to be the answer to everyone's woes and the newly designed and engineered road would be so great, so wonderful that it would link with the wonders of the world.

Of course, anything built up to such tremendous proportions was bound to blow up somewhere along the line. The blowup came with the announcement by state highway Commissioner John C. Mackie that the road from Clare to Indian River, where the traffic should be the heaviest, would be constructed of second grade materials.

The construction of such a wonder road in asphalt is termed as "an experiment". All we wish to know is why select the Interstate "wonder" road for an experiment? Why buy materials from out of state when the top grade road materials are made in Michigan with Michigan labor? Why take a chance of having to rebuild such an important road or even to go into extensive repair work which costs and costs? If there is a good answer to those questions then maybe Mackie's experiment won't become Mackie's mess.

Most people know even if they are not engineers that blacktop can be put down much more cheaply than can concrete to begin with. But the upkeep is much higher. Repairs are needed in less than half the time than they are on concrete. A cost of a road should be determined over the "long pull". Not just the installation but the maintenance for 25 years or more. The Federal Government is paying a portion of the installation, but you and the taxpayers of Michigan, will pay the maintenance of the new Interstate Highway system. It would seem only intelligent to put in lasting materials while the road is being constructed to cut down on the maintenance costs afterwards.

Last but far from least, employees of Michigan's many cement factories have not worked very steadily for the past year. Apparently the State Highway Commissioner isn't very concerned whether they work any more steadily for the next few years. R. W. S.

Achievement Day of the 4-H clubs of the counties of Otsego, Montmorency and Crawford was held in Grayling Saturday with some 150 boys and girls present. The day was a success from start to finish, and Grayling club of ten members with Mrs. Harold Skingley as leader were voted very royal hosts. The exhibits of the various bits of handwork and specimens of farm products, canned fruits and vegetables were on display in the Michelson Memorial Church parlors from 10:30 a. m. until 3 p. m., where the public had been invited to view them and many availed themselves of the opportunity. At noon the banquet was held for the members and in the afternoon a program was held at the school auditorium, and at this time the various prize winners were announced. Each member of each club receives a prize on achievement day, besides other awards that are made, and of the latter Jean Wright won first prize, Mary Montour second, Yvonne Stephens third, and Elsie Mae LaMotte fourth, for canning.

T. F. Peterson was elected 3rd vice-president of the Eastern Michigan Tourist association at the Log Office in Bay City Tuesday. Among those from Grayling in attendance were Mr. Peterson, Mayor C. W. Olsen, Folger Peterson, Fred Walsh, George Burke, Charles E. Moore, Mrs. Thomas Cassidy, Roy Trudgeon and O. P. Schumann.

Simplicity marked the wedding Saturday of Miss Ellen Gothro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gothro, of this city, to Mr. Robert Bensinger, of Lansing. The marriage was solemnized at eleven o'clock in the living room at the home of the bride's parents. Decorations were very nicely carried out in fall colors, with large baskets of bittersweet, holly and evergreens making a very pretty background. The Rev. Edgar Flory of Michelson Memorial Church officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lantz and family left Monday for Jacksonville, Florida, to spend the winter. The former built a trailer, or what is known as a house-car, to make their home in, adding a lot of conveniences. They expect to reach Florida the first of December, visiting relatives on the way.

A total of 555 drilling permits has been issued during the first ten months of 1935 by the Geology Division of the Department of Conservation. This is a new high record for Michigan, exceeding last year's mark by an even hundred. Since 1935 approximately 3,000 wells have been drilled for oil in Michigan.

The fire department was called out shortly after eleven o'clock today, to put out a blaze on the roof of the garage at the home of Bert Markby, on the South Side. It has not been determined just how the fire started but it was easily extinguished and very little damage done.

When Ira Adams, editor of the Charlevoix Sentinel, was given a surprise party on the occasion of his 73rd birthday last Friday, at the home of his son in that city, he said that the greatest surprise of all was when his old pal George Burke of Grayling was found to be one of the guests. And we'll bet it is fair weather when these old friends get together.

One of the nicest Halloween parties of the season was that given Tuesday evening at the Frank Sales home. Miss Madonna Cariveau presided as hostess, and guests were members of the Girl Graduate Sewing Club. The occasion was also a miscellaneous shower to honor Mrs. William LaGrow. The evening was enjoyed with games and contests appropriate for the Halloween season and prizes were won by Miss Dorothy Roberts, Mrs. Floyd SanCarter, Mrs. William Foley, Miss Mildred Hanson and Miss Martha Sorenson. Dining room decorations were in black, white and orange, with black cats and "witches" making the table upon which covers were laid for ten ladies very attractive. Used as a centerpiece was a huge, lighted jack-o-lantern pumpkin and orange and black nut cups were used as favors. Mrs. LaGrow was presented with many lovely gifts.

Word has been received of the birth of a son, John Albert, to Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Vallad of Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bigham of Frederic are redecorating and repairing the Frederic Hotel, which they purchased recently.

Melroy's Garage and Service Station is a new addition to the business section of Frederic and is located on the northern edge of town on B-27.

Peter Lovely has rented the Grayling Bakery and is giving the place a complete renovation and redecoration. He will be open for business, he says, by November 9th. Mr. Lovely is a fine cook and baker and knows how a bakery should be operated. We bespeak for him a fine new business success in this new enterprise.

At a recent special meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary installation of officers was held with Mrs. J. L. Martin acting as installing officer. For Michigan Counties...

Soil-cement is the low-cost road that grows stronger year by year!

County road crews can all but forget about the roads paved with soil-cement. They hold up like no other low-cost pavement ever laid.

Soil-cement is strong right from the start, ready for traffic fast. And it keeps getting stronger! Tests on roads everywhere show it often doubles in strength after years of use.

Soil-cement is a precision-built road — stronger inch for inch than any other pavement short of concrete. No softening, no break-up after a hard winter. It's the 20-year-plus pavement. Maintenance costs stay low.

Initial cost? That's low, too, because roadbuilders work with native soils. Paving is quick and easy. Soil, cement and water are mixed on the ground and rolled solid. Local contractors are building as much as two miles a day.

That's why engineers all over Michigan are converting more mileage to soil-cement every year. Ask your road commission for the figures on your county.

Fireman Save Your Firehouse!

Looking back over these columns for the past six years, I notice I've always been partial to the "unlikely" twist.

For instance, the policeman who got a ticket for parking... the candidate who forgot to vote on Election Day... the fireman who discovered that the firehouse was burning.

But now I've got to confess one on myself. I started with the Clarion twenty years ago, and every night since, a copy of the newspaper has been left at my front door. Not so last night—my subscription expired! From where I sit, the trouble with all of us now and again is that we get so wrapped up in other people's affairs that we neglect our own. It's like the people who are concerned with my right to enjoy an occasional glass of beer. I don't impose my choice on them—why shouldn't they act likewise. We all have enough to do to keep our own "papers" in order.

RICHARD DUNHAM OF STERLING SUCCEDES

Richard Henry Dunham, of Sterling, succumbed Friday at Grayling where he had been visiting relatives. Coronary thrombosis caused the death of the 62-year-old Arenac county farmer. Born Sept. 9, 1876 in Allison, Ont., Mr. Dunham had been a longtime resident of Arenac county, operating a farm near Sterling most of his life. He was married at Sterling in 1907 to the former Florence Gibson, who died in 1917. Surviving are two brothers, Solomon D. Dunham, of Grayling, and Fred L. Dunham, of Marquette. The body was taken to the Sorenson Funeral home at Grayling, then removed to the Savage Funeral chapel at Standish. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Savage Funeral home and burial was in the Sterling cemetery.

Navy Officers Test To High School Seniors

WADM. H. P. Smith, Chief of Naval Personnel, announced today that the 13th annual national competitive examinations for the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Program will be given to interested high school seniors and graduates on December 13th. Application forms are now available and must be received before November 15, he said.

Designed to supplement the officer's education at the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC Unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $800 for four years. During the summer months the student goes on fascinating cruises as a midshipman. After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty as a prospective career officer with the Navy's far flung fleets. For those who apply and qualify, immediate assignment to flight training will open new careers in Naval aviation.

High school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1959. From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 1800 will be selected to begin their Naval careers next September.

Application forms are available at all high schools, colleges and the Naval Recruiting Station, Roscomon.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES
"Consumers Marketing Information Cooperating with County Extension Service"

Apples of the fall and winter varieties have been available from September until March because of modern cold storage facilities. Of course we can get processed apples the year around.

Now the picture is changing and we can have "October frost" apples in June. This is all due to C-A Storage - or controlled atmosphere storage. It is a comparatively new storage method in which Michigan "applemen" have invested some three-quarter of a million dollars.

Why is C-A storage important? We know that when apples are harvested the quality starts "down hill". Refrigeration alone slows the rate of apple "breathing" but does not slow it enough to keep the apple firm and fresh from fall to spring. C-A storage for apples operates on the principle of a decrease in oxygen supply and an increase in carbon dioxide supply in the atmosphere of refrigerated storage rooms.

In 1956 30,000 bushel of Michigan apples were put in C-A storage. This year over 500,000 bushel will be stored in this type of storage. Of the 500,000 or more apples that have gone into C-A storage this fall, one-half of them are McIntosh, one-fourth Jonathans and one-eighth Northern Spys and one-eighth Delicious.

When the apples come out of C-A storage they never fully recover their original rate of breathing so their shelf life is extended about twice that of "regular" apples removed from regular refrigeration at the same time.

So, we can be looking for Michigan grown high quality apples from now until June.

Right now, however, we have a wonderful opportunity to enjoy apples at "bargain" prices before they go into storage. Michigan has a bumper crop of apples this fall and the smart food shopper will be using apples every way she knows. From breakfast to late TV snack apples find their way into interesting and flavorful menus.

You must consider varieties in choosing fruits for certain uses. For applesauce, the McIntosh Red, Grimes Golden, Northern Spy and Stayman Winesap are excellent. Try Jonathan apples for your cinnamon apples and for baking.

EVERYBODY BENEFITS

Trucks are the only commercial vehicles which serve all of Michigan — bringing merchandise and materials from every part of the world to every Michigan household, farm and business concern.

In fact, for hundreds of Michigan communities motor vehicles are the sole means of transportation — autos and buses for passengers, trucks for freight. These communities are not served by any other transportation system!

So, you see, because trucks can and do go wherever there are roads, ample supplies of food, furniture, medical supplies, tools and machinery — necessities and luxuries from everywhere — are available anytime to people in all of Michigan.

Those in small out-of-the-way communities are as well fed, well housed and well clothed as the people of Michigan's largest metropolitan centers — thanks to trucks!
